

- Is there hope for the Islamic Middle East?
- Does the Bible mention Mohammed?
- What are the lessons of Islam for the 21st Century?
- What does Christ say to the Muslim world?

Sunday, February 8th, 3:30 to 9:20 p.m.

First Free Methodist Church

3200 Third Ave. West, Seattle (at Seattle Pacific University)

Speakers

Dudley Woodberry, Professor of Islamic Studies and one of America's leading authorities on Islam, has pastored churches in both Afghanistan and Saudi Arabia. Dr. Woodberry is author of Christians and Muslims on the Emmaus Road.

Miriam Adeney is author of Daughters of Islam. Dr. Adeney teaches at Regent College and Seattle Pacific University.

Ismail Ahmad is Educational Program Director for the Islamic Mosque in North Seattle. Dr. Ahmad, who was born in Iraq, is a leading Northwest Islamic scholar.

Mark Lori Amini was born into a pious Muslim family in Iran and came to faith in Jesus after an auto accident left him severely disabled.

David Marshall, director of Kuai Mu Institute, wrote Jesus and the Religions of Man and the article, "Can Jesus Save Islam?" for the November 2002 edition of Touchstone Magazine.

Cosponsored by Kuai Mu Institute for Christianity and World Cultures, Koinos, and First Free Methodist Church.

Preregistration is $28 by January 28; $35 at the door. (Dinner included.) To register, or for other inquiries, call (425) 392-7381 or send email to christthetao@msn.com. Also see www.christthetao.com or www.ffmc.org.

Location: First Free Methodist Church, at 3200 Third Ave. West, is just across West Davus St. from Seattle Pacific University. From I-5, take the N. 50th St. exit (#169) and go west. For detailed directions, see the church Web page (www.ffmc.org).